

Tekkeon's New Dual Port Power Pack, Certified by Apple for iPod, iPhone and iPad, Charges Two Devices at Once

TekCharge MP1860A, a high-capacity battery in a compact package, is universal to power and charge hundreds of portable devices

IRVINE, CA – March 3, 2011 – Tekkeon today introduced the newest member of its mobile power product family TekCharge™ MP1860A, a dual port power pack with two USB outputs, to simultaneously charge and power iPad™, iPhone®, iPod® nano or iPod® touch, and a second small portable device. With mobile power at a user's fingertips, this high-capacity, lightweight battery lets users enjoy hours of extended play time on many small portable electronic products, including mobile phones, smartphones, and MP3 players, portable routers, pocket video cameras, and e-readers.

Several Charging Options

TekCharge MP1860A connects to devices in three ways: to iPad, iPhone, iPod nano or iPod touch using the included Dock Connector/USB cable, or to any compatible device using the USB device cable or an adapter tip.

An Apple Dock Connector to USB cable is included for charging and syncing iPad, iPhone, or iPod, with Mini USB and Micro USB adapter tips included for connection to current models of BlackBerry, HTC, LG, Motorola, Nokia, Samsung, and Sony Ericsson mobile phones. The included USB adapter tips can be used to charge Kindle2, Nook, MP3 players, PDAs, portable media players, pocket video cameras, portable routers, GPS, MP3 players, and other 5V devices that use a Micro or Mini USB cable to charge. Additional adapter tips are available from Tekkeon for a nominal fee.

Intelligent Design

Its intelligent design enables TekCharge MP1860A to identify and provide exactly the right output power for the connected device, from less than 100mA to a whopping 2.1A—the precise output to fast charge iPad.

High-Capacity Rechargeable Battery

TekCharge MP1860A features a high-capacity rechargeable lithium ion battery. Designed the highest degree of safety in mind, it features multi-layer protection circuitry to help prevent over-charging, over-discharging, over-current, or short circuit, and flame-retardant plastics that exceed industry requirements.

Charge Battery and Device Together

To optimize charging time and luggage space, users can leave extra power adapters at home and use a single USB power adapter to charge the battery along with two connected devices overnight.

Battery Capacity at a Glance

A bright, color-coded LED on top of the battery quickly indicates the remaining capacity of the rechargeable battery.

Emergency Flashlight

As an added bonus, TekCharge MP1860A includes a flashlight to provide emergency light at a user's fingertips.

"Made for iPod, iPhone, iPad" Certification

TekCharge MP1860A has been officially certified by Apple Inc. as a "Made for iPod, iPhone, and iPad" product. A certified Apple dock connector to USB cable is included in the TekCharge MP1860A box to ensure 100% compatibility with Apple products.

"While TekCharge MP1860A is certified by Apple for use with iPod, iPhone and iPad, this compact, high-capacity battery is universal to work with hundreds of popular mobile devices, including new tablets that are beginning to hit the market," says Jerry Yang, president of Tekkeon, Inc. "And its unusually high 2.1 Amp output is ideal for fast charging most of these devices."

TekCharge MP1860A includes:

- TekCharge MP1860A Dual Port Power Pack
- Retractable USB input/output cable (power only)
- Dock Connector Cable for connection to iPad, iPhone or iPod (power and data)
- myCharger™ USB power adapter
